Dear Friends.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank our many customers for their nice orders, letters and cards, and especially do I say "thanks" to all of you for your kind words of sympathy following the death of my Father last year. Those kind words at a time when most needed, shall never be forgotten. Thanks again friends.

As you will notice, we are again listing some of the older antique Iris. On some of them there is a very limited supply and if there are other varieties not listed, write us about them as we may have them but not enough to list.

We like to be generous with extras when we send your orders, but postal rates are a problem. If you will include extra for postage, you will be more than repaid with extra Iris. Please list a few for us to choose from. We will not substitute on your order unless advised to do so. Money will be refunded on all Iris that are sold out. We will continue to do our best to please you in every way.

Please send your orders early. Thank You.

WHITE RUFFLES (Carl Taylor, 1947) Grand big ruffled white with splendid form and heavy substance. A fine Iris.

ZANTHA (Fay, 1945) Large, beautifully formed deep yellow. Most outstanding in the garden and a bright effect. .60

ZEBRA (Pallida variegate) The only Iris with leaves tipped creamy yellow and green. Bears small lavender-blue blossoms but its chief value lies in its novel foliage. .50 We hope your Iris have done well for you. In our gardens the Iris are looking wonderful and there will be many husky plants to send to you at shipping time. If for any reason your plants do not prove satisfactory, please write us about them.

We can not guarantee every plant to do perfect in every garden, but if planted correctly, they will have a better chance. Our method is to add bone meal to the soil where we plant our Iris. Do not cover too deeply. Bone meal will not burn, so use plenty of it. Of course the weather and the type of season has a lot to do with the kind of performance your Iris plants put on, so here's hoping you have a wonderful season.

All orders over $4.00 will be sent postpaid. For orders under $4.00 please include 50 cents for packing and postage. Please do not send stamps. Orders will be filled in order received unless you request holding for later shipment. Shipment will start the last of June. Please send your orders early.
